The quality and integrity of our products depend on continuity of supply and healthy supply chains. We recognize that responsible sourcing is a journey where improvements are achieved through cooperation and partnerships with our suppliers.

Through this Supplier Code of Conduct (hereinafter referred to as the “Code”), we communicate the minimum standards and processes that we expect our suppliers to follow when conducting business with any part of the Royal Unibrew Group. This Code should be read in conjunction with the specific policies and guidelines that may apply to selected areas.

This Code of conduct outlines the expectations we have for our suppliers regarding, business integrity, human rights and labor standards, food safety and quality, and environmental sustainability. The Code includes all suppliers of both goods and services, as well as other deliveries to Royal Unibrew, licensees, partners, distributors and carriers, agents, consultants, and other vendors, etc. (hereinafter referred to as “suppliers”).

Our approach to responsible sourcing is rooted in our commitments, legislation and internationally recognized conventions and guidelines such as OECD guidelines for Multinationals, UN Universal Declaration on Human rights, UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights, International Labor Organization Standards, UN Global Compact, and UN Sustainable Development Goals, etc. More information can be found in the Appendix to the Code.

2. Implementation

Royal Unibrew suppliers are required to implement the principles and standards of this Code to their own business and their business partners, including sub-suppliers, contractors, agents, advisors, joint venture partners etc.

Royal Unibrew expect our suppliers and partners to adhere to all relevant laws and regulations (Applicable Laws) and prepare for future rules and regulations in due time. This Code outlines the standards that we expect our partners to uphold beyond mere legal compliance.

We expect and encourage our suppliers to develop and implement relevant management systems, appropriate for a company of their size and industry. Suppliers are responsible for controlling their own supply chain, and Royal Unibrew expects suppliers to take adequate steps to ensure that their own supply chain complies with the standards in this Code.

The suppliers must have due diligence procedures in place to comply with the requirements in this code. Due diligence must among others include systems to avoid any adverse impact on human rights, ensure workers' rights, prevent negative influence on environment and climate and include procedures to uphold a high level of food safety.

Suppliers must keep appropriate records to demonstrate compliance with the requirements of this Code. The records must be available to Royal Unibrew upon request. We assess our suppliers' compliance with the Code through a combination of audits, self-assessments, and documentation reviews.

The objective of this Code is to establish a basis for positive development and continuous improvement of responsible procurement practices. Further, this Code is not and may not be construed as means to circumvent or undermine national legislation or authorities. In the event of any inconsistency, the more stringent requirements must be observed.

5. Food safety and Quality

Royal Unibrew expect our suppliers, who are involved in any part of the development, handling, manufacturing, packaging, transportation, or storage of our products, to understand and follow the product safety and quality standards, policies, specifications, and procedures relevant to the products produced at their location.

The supplier must adhere to good manufacturing practices and testing protocols, comply with all applicable EU, US FDA or national food safety laws and regulations, and immediately report any issues to Royal Unibrew that could impact the safety or quality of a Royal Unibrew product.

Royal Unibrew have adopted quality management and Global Food Safety Initiative (GFSI) and we expect our suppliers to implement HACCP principles to manage traceability and plan preventive actions. We prefer suppliers that have a certified quality management system recognized by Global Food Safety Initiative (GFSI) e.g. FSSC 22000, IFS, or BRC etc.

6. Environment and sustainability

Suppliers must comply with all applicable laws and industry standards relevant to the environmental, nature and climate impact of the supplier activities, products, and/or services.

Carbon emission management

We expect all our suppliers to manage and monitor energy consumption as well as transitioning towards renewable energy sources.

Royal Unibrew expects suppliers reporting to be aligned with the Green House Gas Protocol and relevant PEFCRs (EU Product Environmental Footprint Category Rules) or other PCF (Product Environmental Footprint) schemes. The basic requirement is to disclose scope 1 and 2 energy consumption/emissions, the contribution from renewable energy sources, and other CO₂ reduction targets. We expect our suppliers, at a minimum, to be working on the disclosure of scope 3 emissions.

Agriculturally based raw materials

Royal Unibrew is a multi-beverage company, where agriculture and agriculturally based raw materials are central to our supply chain. Our products must be based on a safe, high quality and affordable supply of agricultural raw material to meet the demands.

Royal Unibrew believes that focus on productivity, yields and improved farming methods, based on acknowledged science and technology without compromising environment and social standards is part of the solution.

Therefore, we expect our suppliers to develop and manage a sustainable agricultural supply chain with objectives, procedures, performance tracking and documentation and commitment to sustainability improvements over time in accordance with approved standards such as SAI (Sustainable Agriculture Initiative), Global G.A.P, or other responsible farming standards and initiatives.

Zero-deforestation is a basic requirement, We favor regenerative - sustainable farming principles and suppliers that are working to promote biodiversity, minimizing the use of artificial fertilizers, pesticides, and irrigation while building resilience and carbon sequestration.

Packaging material

Packaging material is vital for the protection of our products and maintaining the high product quality in the entire shelf life of our products. Thereby, packaging material enables less food waste in the supply chain.

We expect all our suppliers of packaging material to develop and manage sustainable packaging materials, minimize waste, and design for reuse/recycling, both in the production process but not the least for post-consumer recyclability.

For fiber-based packaging material we will favor suppliers that can demonstrate stewardship in the entire value chain through certifications and traceability such as PEFC or FSC. Waste and circular economy

We expect all our suppliers to apply a circular economy design and close the loop for materials. Royal Unibrew believes that excess use of resources may be avoided by increasing reuse and recycling of material, whenever possible. Thus, material losses in the manufacturing processes such as cut-offs or waste, must be recovered to the fullest either by reuse or recycling. We are aware that all suppliers are not able to provide the data upfront or implement circular flows of material, but we will favor suppliers that initiate the process.

Water and wastewater

All suppliers using water for purposes other than sanitary needs must have a water management system and work to minimize water consumption. This is especially important if the supplier is in an area with water scarcity or high water stress.

Wastewater must be managed in accordance with applicable local regulations and must undergo treatment before final discharge.

7. Report violations

Royal Unibrew encourages our suppliers and their employees to speak up if they have any concerns regarding a possible violation of this Code, to identify and address potential misconduct.

Violations and suspicions can be reported anonymously to Royal Unibrew via the Royal Unibrew Whistleblower reporting system at <https://www.royalunibrew.com/>
